

Strengthening Transitional Shelter Response in Haiti
Facts
Donor	American Red Cross
Implementing agency	United Nations Office for Project Services (UNOPS)
Awarded amount	$ 6,842,941 (total for ARC project)
Project Goal	Strengthen humanitarian assistance to Haitian communities affected by the earthquake contributing to the recovery of the country.
Project duration	12 months (3 months at Villambetta, including site prep)	Achievements
Project activities	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Construction of 1500 transitional sheltersConstruction of 600 latrinesInstallation of 1500 water catchment systems	<ul style="list-style-type: none">A total of 1500 shelters constructed with 293 on two transitional sites (Villambeta: 220 and Carvil: 73) and 1207 in the Neighborhood606 latrines constructed with 145 on transitional sitesInstalled 1500 water catchment systems with 293 at transitional sites
Beneficiaries	Direct beneficiaries include 1500 affected families, or approximately 4500 individuals. Indirect beneficiaries include some 88 skilled and unskilled labourers to help produce and construct the transitional shelters and water and sanitation facilities	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Total Beneficiaries: 8150Direct Beneficiaries: 1500Indirect Beneficiaries: 6650 (with 100 people trained with carpentry skills)Male: 46%Females: 54%Minors: 11%Elderly: 3.95%
Observations (if any)

UNOPS-American Red Cross Shelter locations

Carvil: Community gathering at Carvil for hand over the site to communities along colleagues from American Red Cross

Villambeta: A child on the first day of his new house after spending 18 months in a camp

Camp Carvil: UNOPS Mitigation team making drainage around the new transitional site

Carvil: During construction.